CollegeInvest Honors Byers Counselor
Eve Pugh recognized as Counselor of the Month

Byers, CO – CollegeInvest, in partnership with the Colorado Council on High School/College Relations and Denver’s Channel 7, is proud to honor Eve Pugh of Byers Senior High School as March’s Counselor of the Month.

“High school counselors often are unsung heroes, encouraging students to dream and accomplish their goals,” said Judy Ransom of CollegeInvest, Colorado’s higher education financing resource. “They wear many hats, from a higher education resource to a friendly face to talk to on a bad day.”

The Counselor of the Month program is designed to give counselors the recognition they deserve. CollegeInvest is a not-for-profit division of the Colorado Department of Higher Education.

Nicole Bunce, a student at Byers High School, nominated Pugh for the award. According to Bunce, Pugh goes the extra mile as a counselor and inspires her students to reach their goals. Bunce credits Pugh for giving her the extra push to go to college and apply for scholarships.

“Eve Pugh is more than just a school counselor. She is someone that you know you can count on,” Bunce wrote. “She is a friend to so many of us.”
