Learn how to pay for college from the experts at CollegeInvest
Presentations held at The Wildlife Experience on April 19

Denver, CO – CollegeInvest, Colorado’s not-for-profit higher education financing resource, is hosting free college financing and savings seminars on April 19. Attendees will be provided with information about how to save, prepare and pay for college from a certified college planning specialist.

CollegeInvest is providing these workshops as part of their partnership with Money Smart Week, a public awareness campaign designed to help consumers better manage their personal finances.

The seminars will be held at The Wildlife Experience located at 10035 Peoria Street in Parker.

The College Savings 101 presentation will take place from 2-3 p.m. The workshop will provide complete information about saving for college, different college savings methods and information about the different 529 college savings plans offered by CollegeInvest.

The Financial Aid 101 presentation will take place from 3-4 p.m. The workshop will provide complete information about the financial aid process, how to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), where to look for scholarships and information about the different student and parent loans offered by CollegeInvest.

Attendees can register to win free tickets to The Wildlife Experience and a scholarship from CollegeInvest.

For three decades, CollegeInvest has served as Colorado’s not-for-profit higher education financing resource, helping families across the state pay for college through scholarships, matching grants, student loan forgiveness, college savings plans, outreach programs and planning tools.

As a division of the Colorado Department of Higher Education, CollegeInvest’s sole focus is helping Colorado families overcome the financial barriers to college. Families can access valuable information on paying for higher education at www.collegeinvest.org.
